

I want to express my opinion regarding the Telephone Privacy Laws. Indiana's law is great! The annoying telemarketing calls I used to receive at the rate of 15-20 per week have dropped to less than one per week on the average. I urge you not to pass any regulation weakening Indiana's law. The quality of my time at home has been improved by reducing the calls from telemarketers. I used to dread answering the phone, not knowing what kind of sales pitch, begging, or outright high pressure sales pitch was going to greet me. Leave Indiana's law alone!!!!
